Report of the School Committee

In reviewing the conditions of our schools during the past year we find some features highly satisfactory with an opportunity to improve in others. The health of pupils has been at a high mark and there has been no contagious diseases to cause the closing of any school.

The teachers are doing commendable work but in most of the schools there are too many grades to get the best results.

Tests given by our Superintendent show the standard in the different schools to be in proportion to the number of grades in those schools which is proof of the advantages in a one or two grade system.

Transportation is a hard problem to solve for perfect satisfaction but with few exceptions, our system is accepted in a generous spirit. Any school system may be compared to a machine whose efficient and economical running depends on all contributing forces being kept at a high standard. As contributing forces we would name, Health, Attendance, Punctuality, Deportment, Ambition, and Willingness to Work by the pupils; co-operation of Superintendent, teachers, physicians, nurse and school committee and suitable facilities for class room work and grading.

With these forces functioning the school room will be electrified with a school spirit of high order.

To Parents of School Children

We want your help in our effort to give your child the best education our schools can afford and to obtain this result we can think of no better way of assisting us than for you to inquire of your child's teacher as to his or her work and conduct in school. If you co-operate with the teacher your child will appreciate your interest, you will be rewarded and the teacher encouraged.

The Need of More and Better School Accommodations

The State Inspector of Public Buildings has ordered your committee to install a better system of ventilation in the Harwich Port School. To comply with this order we are asking for an appropriation for this purpose. Our request however, is for an appropriation sufficiently large to improve all the schools alike since the need for improvement is equally urgent in all. Moreover, there is need for more room. With the exception of North Harwich and the first three grades at the Center all our schools are too large in view of the fact that so many grades are assigned to one teacher. Our enrolment is larger than last year by thirty-six pupils. While the seventh and eighth grades are getting as good or better training as possible by any other arrangement under present conditions, still that training is not sufficient to enable them to do successful work in the high school. So many pupils and so many subjects require the services of more than one teacher. The high school is likewise crowded. If a small addition, about thirty-four feet square, was made to the High School building and the fifth and sixth grades taken out we could organize the High School as a six year high school with departmental teaching and enlarge the course of studies with an up-to-date commercial department. This would make a material reduction in our transportation and greatly improve the efficiency of the High School.

In this connection it is proper to say that our funds permitted us to spend only $1,499.33 for repairs and upkeep. This sum is larger by $500 than was contemplated in our budget. The largest part of this expenditure has been for new floors and painting.

To The Citizens

You have a duty you owe to posterity by upholding and promoting the highest possible standard of our Public Schools, the greatest institution in the world for the advancement of civilization and all that goes to make a people great. We want your help in educating our children and you know they are our greatest asset.

We solicit your constructive criticism.

Respectfully submitted,

RALPH W. DOANE,

School Standards

Improvement in organization as well as improvement in scholastic standards show little variation from year to year in a well established system of schools. This year we are more than usually concerned with securing better work in the class rooms. This is a difficult and serious matter and requires something more than fine equipment and skillful teachers.

Elementary Grades

In the first six grades of our schools a fairly good quality of work is being accomplished. This is due very largely to the fact that the teachers are well trained for their tasks and have had much experience in the work of their several grades. Much is also due to the interest of the pupils in the work of the school. In these grades school life is a new and interesting experience for the pupils and under the guidance of skillful teachers this interest seldom wanes. In these grades good work, splendid discipline and fine school spirit are some of the outstanding characteristics of the school. Better work in these grades will obtain when we have reduced the number of grades for each teacher.

High School

To keep alive this interest in school work in the high school is a more difficult task. Yet it is absolutely essential if a commendable standard of high school education is to be obtained. Teachers without experience frequently do not know how to secure and maintain the pupils' interest in the daily work of the school. Experienced teachers sometimes tire of the constant effort that is demanded to keep the classes working at a maximum rate of scholastic effort. In the High School evidence of a lack of study and preparation on the part of the pupils is too frequently brought to the attention of those who occasionally visit the class rooms. This lack of preparation of the daily work is due more to a lack of interest in the work than to any other cause. The remedy for this situation is not to be found by punishing the pupil in some way but rather in finding a way to create in the pupil a desire to learn the assigned lessons. To do this, especially in small high schools, is a task too great for the average teacher to accomplish unaided. All forces which the community affords, even though remotely concerned with the work of the school, should enlist in a constant endeavor to have maintained a standard of scholarship that should properly prevail in a first class high school. As incentives to better work on the part of the pupils we are advocating two lines of activity. One, the use of graphs to indicate the progress each pupil is making in each of his studies, and the other, prizes for attaining a certain standard of scholarship.

Graphs

Examinations are given once in two weeks and each pupil makes a graph showing the marks attained from time to time. The seventy or passing line is clearly marked on the graph paper so that the pupil's line of progress shows at once whether his work is above or below the passing standard. A duplicate of each pupil's graph in each subject is posted on a large class graph sheet so that the pupils can readily compare with each other their progress from time to time.

We are trying this method this year for the first time. We have ample reasons for believing that it is producing good results. Pupils are making better preparation for the examinations, thereby exhibiting a desire to carry the graph line higher. In some instances we note a decided improvement in the work of the class room while many are maintaining a very good standing.

In this work we aim to eliminate as far as possible the personal judgement of the teacher so far as it applies to the pupil's rating. That is why we are having the pupil make his graph from marks acquired only by written examinations.

Reports sent out to parents once in two or three months have lost much of their incentive for good work. Both parents and pupils have lost their interest because the report comes so infrequently. I believe greater interest in the work of the school and more general satisfaction would prevail if our marking system was changed from one that may represent the snap judgement of the teacher to one based upon frequent tests. Parents complain to me more frequently about "marks" than about any other phase of our school work. Written tests and quizzes given frequently and carefully marked will eliminate much of this dissatisfaction and the too frequent charge of the unfairness of the teacher.

Scholarship Prizes

For the three high schools in this superintendency union we are endeavoring to raise three first prizes of fifty, thirty-five and twenty dollars, one for each school, the largest going to the pupil who attains the highest average in three subjects of the College Entrance Examination Board. This means that the pupil in the Harwich High School having the highest average from the College Entrance Examination Board examinations would be eligible for one of these prizes and would receive that one which corresponds to his relative standing with the pupils having the highest average in the other two high schools. That is, fifty dollars, if his average is the highest of the three, and so on.

These are prizes worthy of a strenuous effort. The competition with the pupils in the other two high schools enhances the interest. Pupils in private schools have many such prizes to stimulate their scholastic effort while the pupils in the public schools seldom have any such stimulus.

We are also raising a number of second prizes of ten dollars each to be given to the pupils taking the College Entrance Examination Board examinations in the order of their relative standing. We believe we shall have enough of these to give one to each pupil passing the College Entrance Board examinations. A number of these prizes have already been pledged. No pupil will receive a prize whose average is below sixty. These second prizes are not open to pupils in any other high school than in the town where the prizes are raised.

Who Is Eligible to Compete?

Every pupil in the three upper classes of the High School is eligible whether he is planning to go to college or not. In fact all pupils in these classes should be urged to take some of these examinations. A pupil who obtains from the College Entrance Examination Board fifteen credits has something infinitely more valuable than his high school diploma. For, with that number of credits from the College Entrance Examination Board he would be admitted to any university, college, or scientific school in the country. Not so with his diploma. Further, the acquisition of these credits shows a definite accomplishment while the high school diploma shows little more than four years of attendance and not always that. The fact that a pupil is not going to some higher institution of learning is not a sufficient reason for permitting him to dawdle with his high school work.

The College Entrance Examination Board

The College Entrance Examination Board is an organization composed of representatives from colleges, scientific schools and secondary schools. It was organized in 1899 for the purpose of maintaining standards. Pupils who are able to pass its examinations with fifteen credits are universally accredited as being well prepared to continue study beyond the secondary school.

In offering prizes for scholastic attainments we have chosen the College Entrance Examination Board examinations as the basis of the award because of their real fitness and absolute fairness for all concerned. No pupil can in any way obtain an unfair advantage over another in taking these examinations.

Our Aim

Until a goodly number of our pupils are able to pass these examinations we can not say that our High School is as good as we have a right to expect. This is the universal standard by which high schools are judged. This is the standard we must strive to attain. Nothing but the full co-operation of community, teachers and pupils can attain this standard. A lagging on the part of any one of these three forces will frustrate to a considerable extent the efforts of the other two. The community must provide necessary equipment and teachers of adequate skill. The teachers must work assiduously for the attainment of certain scholastic standards on the part of their pupils. The pupils must be willing to apply themselves faithfully to the accomplishment of the tasks set by the teachers. By such efforts only can we have a worth while high school.

Spelling Contest

Chatham now holds the Silver Cup donated by the Educational Department of the Orleans Woman's Club.

Virginia Harding, C. H. S. '26, won the gold key donated by the Chatham Woman's Club and at the same time the spelling trophy for the Chatham High School. Louise J. Williams, O. H. S. '28 won the gold key donated by the Educational Department of the Orleans Woman's Club, and Arthur W. Tobey, Jr., H. H. S. '26, won the gold key donated by the Harwich Welfare Association. The next contest will be held Monday evening, June 6, 1927 in Chatham.

All New England Test In Arithmetic

A test in Arithmetic, similar in every way to the one given last year, was given on December 8 to grades five six and seven. A comparison of the averages with those of last year shows a marked improvement, especially in grades five and six. These two grades in Chatham, it will be seen by the table of averages given on another page, attained five of the six highest averages in this superintendency union. We also give another table showing the number of pupils in each grade getting a perfect score in the different parts of the examination. The improvement over last year is due to more drill upon fundamentals. If these tests were given in June instead of December they would probably show more accurately the real accomplishment of the several grades in which they are given.

Other Work

Space forbids further comment upon the work of the schools. Music, Drawing, Health, Physical Education, Scientific equipment, the employment of more experienced teachers, transportation, commercial department in the High School, as well as other matters of more or less importance, are all worthy of favorable comment.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM FISHER SIMS,

January 10, 1927

Superintendent of Schools.

Report of High School Principal

Attendance

The percentage of attendance for the high school is over ninety-six, a very good record and higher than last year. In order to accomplish a high grade of school work perfect attendance is necessary, for absences tend to lower the class average.

Scholarship

The policy of the school is to give the students the marks that they deserve and at the same time to bear in mind the standard of grading that belongs to a good school. We feel that anyone who receives honors here would suffer no comparison with those given in much larger places. Superintendent Sims introduced the idea of having the students make graphs which show the results of their work from week to week. This has stimulated the interest and all wish to see that their lines keep above the seventy mark.

Curriculum

In the high schools all over the country there is much time devoted to business training. Last year a course of bookkeeping was started here and to it we have added commercial law. Solid geometry and trigonometry are again offered after a lapse of several years. The idea is not to offer too many courses but to try and keep abreast with what is being done in reputable schools.

Activities

Considering the small number of available athletes, the students have done rather well in competition with the other high schools. In basketball the boys had a championship team and the girls won most of their games. Last Fall there was a freshman football team that gave a good account of itself.

A very successful play was given by the Senior Class in December. Although there is no organized dramatic society, one or two short sketches have been given and we hope to do more in the Spring. Debating is gaining interest in the English classes and contests are being arranged with other schools.

Parents should visit the school more frequently in order to co-operate successfully with the teachers in securing efficient work.

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND C. EASTWOOD,

Principal.

Report of the Music Supervisor

The program of music in the schools is much the same as during the past year. The monotone situation is much improved, and I am pleased to say that the work of the children in the first four grades is more nearly up to the standard. We are constantly trying to develop the singing power of each individual child, so that there may be increasing enjoyment of good music throughout his life.

The appearance of all the music classes at the Drawing Exhibition was interesting and gave our audience an opportunity to hear the various grade groups sing, and to observe some every day work in sight-note reading. The High School Glee Club did most creditable work at the evening program of the Spelling Contest, and thoroughly enjoyed doing their share of the music of the program.

I am always pleased to acknowledge the fine co-operation of all the teachers and principals in the Harwich school system.

Respectfully submitted,

MABELLE B. DUMONT,

Supervisor of Music.

Report of Supervisor of Drawing

There is a common belief that a drawing of any kind must have some connection with Art, and is judged accordingly. The remote relationship is there, but it is no nearer than that of a letter to Literature. An early drawing or one made by a person not specially gifted should be taken as a graphic statement adequate if understandable, but not to be tested by standards beyond its purpose.

In all my work in both grades and high school I keep to this standard. The children are trained in Drawing, not to become skilled artists but to be able to use the subject as a means of intellectual expression and artistic appreciation.

Problems based on the foregoing uses have been carefully prepared by me.

In order to make the subject clearer and of greater interest to the pupils various methods are introduced such as dictation, observation, construction, and free-expression. Exhibitions are arranged in each grade room and changed once a week so that the children can see for themselves just what progress is being made. In the high school the same procedure is followed as in the grades, instead of class work, however, we have to have individual work entirely as there are often several different Art classes going on at the same time. As far as possible each pupil has the chance to accomplish as much work as he wishes. When he shows himself capable of mastering one problem a new assignment is made.

The Drawing department seeks to co-operate whenever possible with other departments in the school.

It is a pleasure to work with the teachers as they have all shown themselves willing to co-operate in every way.

Respectfully submitted,

VIRGINIA DOWLING,

Supervisor of Drawing.

Report of School Nurse

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to report a healthy school year.

We have had the occasional Colds, Measles, Mumps, Whooping Cough, Chicken Pox, Impetigo but no disease got to the epidemic stage. Since September the children have been weighed twice and under weights checked up, but this year we have very few.

I wish to thank the Visiting Nurse Association for financing the milk supplied during February and March.

I am also pleased to report the children's teeth in a much improved condition. I wish to thank the parents and teachers for their kind co-operation in my work.

School calls made 383.
